

To Anna Beatriz, who teaches me to dream with my eyes open – and to tell stories to all the children who are afraid of sleeping; and to those who discovered that sleep can be an adventure, dreamed of dragons and woke up hungry.

